

PICK-UP STICKS (BAG RAID)

PERFECT FOR: Twosomes or foursomes looking to break up the monotony of their usual games.

DESCRIPTION: This is a standard match-play competition with a little twist. When a golfer or team wins a hole, they "remove" a club from the opponent or opponents' bags. That means the other team can't use that club for the rest of the round. This continues until the match is decided. A variation of this game allows a team to reinstall clubs to their set if someone on the team makes net birdie or better to win a hole. Things can get really creative and shot making becomes a bigger part of the round when certain clubs are eliminated. Obviously, the putter should be first to go
